

The Sports Spotter

By THE SPORTS EDITOR

Sol Blechman

We've used many a South Pacific sport item which originated on the typewriter of Staff Sgt. Solomon Blechman. We're sorry that there will be no more. Serving with the Marines as a correspondent Blechman, who was formerly associated with the sport department of The Daily Times, received fatal wounds in the invasion of Guam. Although he was not on the staff in the day of this editor, we've seen his stories in back issues and we've used his current South Pacific sport tales. We'll miss them, which is about all one can say!
